One hot day, a fox came to a bunch of grapes that were ripe on a vine.

“These grapes look so nice up here on the vine,” smiled the fox. “I bet they would taste just fine!”

But the grapes were not close.

So the fox went back five paces, raced up, and made a huge jump at the grapes.

He missed the bunch by a nose!

*Check out the rest of the story in the Fables for Fluency book!